

National Guard Association of Washington

Fall 2026 Industry Day

Through the following pages, we invite you to learn more about the incredible Corporate Partners who joined NGAW at our Fall 2026 Industry Day and continue to support us year-round. These partners—both local and national—are deeply invested in the mission and goals of the Washington National Guard. They provide the tools, technology, education, and benefits that help strengthen our Army and Air Guard forces.

The National Guard Association of Washington (NGAW) is a non-profit professional association dedicated to supporting every member of our Guard Family—Soldiers and Airmen, Officers and Enlisted, families and civilian employers. Our mission is to advocate for the legislation, resources, and benefits that ensure our Washington National Guard remains strong, ready, and supported.

As a non-profit organization, NGAW proudly serves as the voice of the Guard at both the state and federal levels. We provide educational scholarships, support state-sponsored life insurance, and fund charitable activities and emergency assistance through our 501(c)(3) Foundation—all with the goal of taking care of our Guard members and their families.

Our Corporate Partners play a vital role in this mission. Their financial support and professional collaboration amplify our collective voice and help us make meaningful impacts on the lives of those who serve. These partnerships allow us to strengthen our advocacy efforts and ensure our Guard community receives the recognition, support, and resources it deserves.

To all our Corporate Partners—thank you for standing with us, believing in our mission, and investing in those who serve.

Together, we are stronger.

Bren-Tronics®
an EnerSys company

Energy Is the New Ammunition.

Every radio, drone, counter-UAS system, and command post runs on power. Lose it, and the fight stops.

For over five decades, we've made one thing: tactical power, built in the USA. Our Energy Ecosystem of rugged batteries, chargers, and portable power supports the Department of War, DHS, and leading defense OEMs building radios, radar, and drone-defense systems. We design it to run what Washington's Guard already fields, from TACP and cyber teams at Camp Murray to the 81st MBCT. With Rebel Systems, we extend it into C5ISR for the command post.

FEDERAL MISSION. STATE MISSION. SAME POWER.

The gear your formations train on for federal mobilization is the same gear the Governor calls up for DOMOPS. One buy, two missions. It powers wildfire and flood response where the grid is down, keeps law enforcement EOD and ATAK teams on mission, and keeps counter-UAS online: law enforcement seized 42 drones around Seattle Stadium during six World Cup match days.

Schedule a no-cost 30-minute power audit with a written gap report.

We'll map your power gaps against the systems you already field, then help build the requirement, justification, and funding path.

Every product is available through DLA TLS and other standard federal and state purchase vehicles.
